PLENTY OF MOISTURE NOW

With the good drenching of rain which we, in this community received, and which lasted for about twenty hours or more, last week, and with the further continued showers and heavy snow storm since, with indications of more prolonged rains, we are all inclined to grant that our regular "spring rains" are upon us in all their old-time fullness, much to the satisfaction of all farmers in this neighborhood. From all reports had the fall was quite general in all parts of Alberta, especially in central and southern parts, and reaching as far east as Medicine Hat. It came at the most opportune time, when practically all seeding was finished, and was of a kind as made to order, coming down voluminously, steadily and continuously, without a let up, and soaking into the ground as it came, until the moisture had penetrated at least 15 to 20 inches in cultivated land, and had satisfied completely the desires of grain growers in this locality. Many smiling faces were seen on the streets while the rain was on, and some farmers even refused to go indoors, saying "it was pleasanter to them outside," and only ventured inside when a "proposition of good health" was proposed over the assured bumper crop prospects. Farm properties are not so cheap now and many good listings are being withdrawn from the market, while others have been advanced generally $5.00 per acre. Now watch Cayley district grow.

The United States Supreme Court has ordered the dissolution of the Standard Oil Company. The octopus was described as monopolistic in restraint of trade and it must be closed, they say, in six months. All of which sounds very well, but will never be enforced. The Standard Oil will operate as of yore, despite what the Supreme Court Orders. So what's the use.

Agent W. Allen and family purpose spending a few weeks in Medicine Hat, visiting Mrs. Allen's parents.

Two Churches will Co-Operate in Work

A joint meeting of ministers and laymen of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches was held in Knox church, Calgary, last week at which meeting church union was unanimously agreed upon.

The decision of this provincial committee will go forward to the general committee in Toronto, strongly recommending the proposed amalgamation or union. In some minor details the rules and regulations of the co-operative organizations laid down by the general committee were hardly thought applicable to provincial conditions. It is intended, therefore, to go over the general committee's rulings carefully and recommend such slight details as may be deemed for the betterment of the situation in Alberta.

One of the objections made was that in which members of a co-operative church are admitted to their regular denominations only as associate members. Thus, for instance, a Methodist in some co-operative rural church would be a member of a Methodist church in the city as an associate only. Associate members are not allowed to hold church offices, and this rule might bar many good men from holding provincial offices in connection with the church work. This was felt to be unjust, but it was the only serious objection made to the provisions of the general committee.

There was also a slight argument about the powers of committees concerning the nature of such difficulties as might arise from time to time. It was finally agreed, however, that the local or district committee should deal with local affairs. Should there be an appeal from the local co-operative committee's decision the provincial committee would then have power to act, with the general committee as a court of last resort.

The problem has already been seriously considered in mission fields which overlap, which means territory covered by more than one missionary or minister. Where such conditions existed local committees had already dealt with the problem, assigning certain portions to the Methodists, others to the Presbyterians, etc. Reports were made to the provincial committee from these districts and were in the main satisfactory to all concerned.

Large cities will not be affected by church union. The principal object of the union is to avoid placing more than one worker in sparsely settled districts and to more economically and expeditiously administer the gospel to a greater number of people.

Potato Farming

Producing eight hundred bushels of potatoes, or even half that quantity on an acre of land beats wheat growing for profit. Of course, if all wheat farms were turned into potato patches the profits would not be so great, as there would be a glut in the market. But there is no danger of a surplus of potatoes with the present activity in Southern Alberta in that line. It is a strange thing in this country, where potatoes grow to perfection, that whole trainloads are imported from countries not so well suited to their cultivation. The farmers of this district are missing a splendid chance to make big money. Potato-growing on a large scale, with scientific methods is vastly different from the old method remembered from boyhood days, when the hoe was the chief implement used.

H. Wernick of the Ontario Wind Engine and Pump company, Calgary, was up last week, repairing engines in the country.

ments at Forks and Zepher in the absence of the Rev. F. Bushfield.

the foremanship of W. McQuade, hall at 10.15 on Sunday. The lesson this week is "Israel's Penitence and God's Pardon." Hosea

Rev. W. K. Thomson, the new Presbyterian minister at Stavelay, paid Cayley a visit Wednesday.
On Thursday morning he went to Nanton.

The Rev. Mr. Armstrong, pastor of the Baptist church, Nanton, conducted service here on Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian hall.
Quite a number were present.

Mrs. G. W. Wickens and Mrs.
L. Beaton were Calgary visitors on Monday. Mrs. Beaton expects her mother here this week from Ontario.

Next Saturday being a general holiday, the stores will be closed.
Will the friends, therefore, kindly do their week-end shopping one day earlier this week.

G. D. Sloane was the delegate from here at the annual meeting of the U. F. held at Macleod last week, and reports a very enthusiastic gathering.

The Rev. Mr. Bryan of Nanton is the delegate to represent the High River Presbytery to the general assembly, which meets at Ottawa this year.

The football boys will play the High River team at that town on Wednesday next, May 31st. Don't forget that "Cayley" expects that every man this day will do his duty.

Last Sunday, in the absence of the pastor of the Methodist church here, who is attending conference at Calgary, Messrs.
Bradley and Newton gave an interesting talk on Sunday school work—its origin, present and future prospects.

The sermon subjects at the Presbyterian hall on Sunday will be as follows: At 11 a.m. "The Call of Samuel," and at 7.30 p.m.
"Lessons from the Petrine Epistles." The sermon in the morning is best suited for the children, but the older ones can get something from it.

Don't forget the date of the postponed 24th May celebration has been fixed for Saturday next, June 3rd (King's birthday). Come out in crowds and MAKE it the biggest day in Cayley's history.
Farmers, after the great and bounteous quantity of moisture you have just received, and a bumper harvest now assured, you can afford to have a day of rejoicing. Make next Saturday that day. Come in by the wagon loads and have the time of your lives.

Services in Cayley East for Sunday, June 4th, will be: Wilburn's hall at 11 a.m. and Arthur schoolhouse at 3 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The women of the Presbyterian church intend to carry out their part of the celebration program next Saturday. There is dinner and supper in the hall. This will mean a great deal, for on account of Saturday being a general holiday, and a week-end one at that, there will be a bigger crowd in Cayley than there would have been on the 24th.

Sorry to Lose You, Jack

We regret to learn that we are soon to lose the genial countenance of Jack Cohen from the post office, who has resigned his position, and intends going to Calgary.
Popular Jack will be greatly missed in Cayley in many ways.
The football team will miss one of its most popular and active members, and also in musical circles, etc. The Hustler, with his many friends, extends every good wish for his future welfare and prosperity.

A "Pans" Full Subject

Whenever you see a house with all the windows broken in very many places (not Cayley, of course) it is a sign positive that it is to be or that the occupiers are away.
It seems a hardship that owners of houses have only to vacate them to attract the attention of boys, and often older boys, with stones, and it seems a greater hardship that this innocent youthful recreation goes unpunished all the time, being taken apparently as a matter of course. It might be a good idea, however, if one or two of these window-breakers were brought before the J. P. just by way of a change, as it might, at least, save owners of property an odd dollar or two.

Meets with Peculiar Accident

The many friends of Mr. Thos.
Widdup will much regret to learn that the old gentleman met with a bad and peculiar accident one day last week. It seems that while he was in the act of walking across the street in South Vancouver a drunken Indian and Squaw came driving recklessly along, and before Mr. Widdup could get out of the way he was knocked violently down, and besides being badly bruised and shaken up, he had three ribs broken. It is a very strange coincidence that just prior to their departure from Cayley a few weeks ago, Mrs. Widdup was thrown from a buggy by her horse running away, sustaining a severe shaking up, badly bruised, had three ribs broken, and at the same time Mr. Widdup was ill in bed.
Truly troubles do not seem at all times to come singly. We hope soon to hear of Mr. Widdup's complete recovery.

The Villain Felled

The town hall was packed, and the large audience followed the heroine's tribulations with bated breath.

She was having a terrible time.
In the space of five short minutes she was nearly run over by a mad horse, bitten by a mad dog and drowned in a mad mill race. And she escaped these to fall into the hands of the vaunting villain.

The audience strained forward as the villain led her to a lonely cave and cast her into the presence of a huge gorilla.

"R-r-revenge at last!" muttered the villain.

"Oh, what shall I do?" cried the heroine, as the gorilla approached with a malevolent grimace. "Oh, what I do?"

It was too much. The strain could not be borne any longer. In a frenzy of excitement a member of the audience rose from his seat clapped his mouth, and shouted:

on tour of the province of Alberta in the interests of his fellow-agriculturists of the eastern province, who have clubbed together to send him to ascertain the unadulterated truth in regard to conditions and opportunities for farming here.
Mr. Scarf declares that when he returns to the east, which will be within a few days, he will report that although the comforts attendant upon farm life in Alberta are not as great as in Ontario, the opportunities for making money are much broader. Mr. Scarf has visited all sections of the province from north to south, and expressed himself as delighted with what he had seen. He sees a great future before the farming industry in Alberta.
